

WebSuite

Designed specifically for the electronic / electrical components marketplace. Can serve up to 50 million parts and maintain 3 second page loads with programmed optimization for best indexing and page rank on today's search engines.

Open Product Library

We have sourced specification data, images and downloads for >32 million components commonly used in the marketplace. The data consists of 952 categories from 1,130 manufactures. You can assemble your own catalog to quickly populate your website with our data.

PDF Re-Marketing

We have a database of your part numbers, product categories, manufacturer names and other key words found on your site and their matching URL pages. We crawl your pdf libraries and embed hotlinks back to your site driving business back to you from wherever your pdf downloads may land.

We own the platform, the data and redundant servers co-hosted on 3 continents. We offer experienced content creators, graphic designers and development resources as needed.

Why DistyMan?

Established in 2005, we spent our first decade building websites for our customers using 3rd party tools from Shopify, Magento, BigCommerce and others, each requiring extensive customizations to meet the needs of our electronic component customers.

Our combination of being both a content provider and a platform developer is simply the natural progression of our decades-long experience in our target industry. No longer must our customers suffer lengthy and costly content, design and development cycles (typically 12-18 months per Forbes magazine).

Today, our team consists of more than 75 developers, designers and content managers.

Our e-commerce platforms have been installed on more than 15,000 websites around the globe. Our processes are qualified to ISO-9001:2015 for Quality Management and ISO-27001:2013 for Information and Security management standards. We have been recognized within the industry for the quality of our designs.

We are confident you will not find a more focused and qualified team to support your website needs.
